DO NOT TAKE UP IN STOCK

B. Such samples shall be delivered to the testing facility in sufficient time prior to the delivery date of the production articles to allow a 60 day period for testing and written notification by the contracting officer of the approval or disapproval of the samples. Within 90 days of the receipt of the samples, the testing facility shall notify contracting officer, PCO /ACO of the results of the testing, together with the recommendation for approval or disapproval.

C. In the event the contractor does not receive written notification of approval or disapproval of the samples for a particular lot within 60 days from their submission for such testing, the contract delivery schedule shall be equitably adjusted as necessary.

D. If the contractor fails to deliver any Production Lot Samples for testing within the time or times specified, or if the contracting officer disapproves any Production Lot Samples, the contractor shall be deemed to have failed to make delivery within the meaning of the default clause of this contract, and this contract shall be subject to termination for default.

E. In order for a Production Lot to be acceptable all samples representative of the lot must pass all the contract requirements. In the event a sample fails to pass such requirements; the lot will be rejected. In such an event, the government may, at its option and at no additional cost to the government, (I) terminate all or any portion of this contract for default, (II) require the manufacture of a new Production Lot, or a rework of the rejected Production Lot if the means and procedures by the contractor for rework are acceptable to the government, or (III) require the submission of additional samples for test. The foregoing procedures shall apply to new or reworked Production Lots in the same way as they did to the original Production Lot.

F. For each additional sample or each resubmission of a modified sample which the contractor is required to submit for approval hereunder as a result of a failure of a previous sample to conform to the requirements of the specification, the contractor shall pay to the government the costs of reinspection, examination and retesting and the contractor and his sureties (if any) shall be liable for the amount of such costs.

G. Nothing contained in the foregoing provisions of this clause. and no action of the government in accordance herewith, shall in any way prejudice the right of the government under the clause of this contract entitled Default.
