SECTION E - Inspection and Acceptance

Inspection and acceptance of products will be performed at destination. Each ordering facility will be responsible for accepting and rejecting product as it is delivered. Delivery under this contract means delivery to the individual customer facility for the land based customers. For ship's customers, product needs to be inspected by the Veterinary Inspectors once it has been staged for delivery, due to the difficulty of inspecting at the dock. The inspection of the Vets will not, however, constitute acceptance or rejection of product, but will rather be information provided to the customer to aid them in making fast and accurate acceptance decisions. Ship's customers may refuse product at the dock and during loading if necessary. All food deliveries should be inspected for quality, count and condition, however, all food deliveries are subject to military veterinary inspection, and must be approved by the ordering activity's authorized personnel receiving the delivery before acceptance is deemed final. The final disposition rests with the authorized receiving official.
