UNIQUE EXAMINATION/TEST PROCEDURES:

SPECIAL NOTES: Serviceability of the product is considered significantly affected if there are more than ten grams of crumbs, not discernible pieces, per pouch. Serviceability is also significantly affected if there are more than three broken pieces per cookie, for a pouch with one or two cookies, and if more than half the cookies are broken into three pieces, for a pouch with three or more cookies. This product should contain an oxygen scavenger packet. If defects such as oxidized or rancid odors or flavors exist, they are likely due to package failure or the absence of an oxygen scavenger.
